LIBERAL POLICY FOR INDUSTRIES.*Mass Meeting at South Connellsville Indicates This.*WANT TIN MILL TO START*Committee Appointed Last Night to Meet With Chamber of Commerce and Approach Officials of Corporation—Largely Attended.

The new borough of South Connellsville will adopt a liberal policy towards securing both those already established and new, ones it hopes to secure, if the sentiment of more than 100 residents of that community can be regarded as a criterion. With the exception of a gathering of citizens held some time ago to pit a citizen's municipal ticket in the field, the meeting last night was the largest that has ever been held there in recent years.

Dr. W. J. Churchill presided with James Trombley as secretary. Secretary Fred Kurtz of the Chamber of Commerce, was present as a representative of that body. Other Connellsville men on hand at the meeting were W. D. Sherrick of the Pittsburgh Safe Company, W. W. Murrle of the tin plate company, Dr. S. D. Woods and James S. Dar.

The meeting was called primarily for the purpose of considering some means by which the Humbert tin plate mill could be started. Various methods were discussed, from the exonerating of taxes to the payment of a bonus. Among the speakers were Joshua Phillips, a tin worker; John Davis, S. B. Miller and Secretary Kurtz.

Secretary Kurtz of the Connellsville Chamber of Commerce made the principal address of the evening. He pointed out, as John Davis had declared before him, that the exoneration of some $100 taxes a year would be no inducement for the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company to resume operations at the Humbert mill. He declared that the company operates the mills that can be run along the most economical lines, and that the operation of Humbert depended upon business conditions in the country at large.

Kurtz further declared that if the new borough of South Connellsville intends exonerating the tin plate mill from taxes, it should not discriminate against the other industries. He dwelt at length upon the exoneration of taxes for a limited period as an inducement for securing new industries.

He stated that the Chamber of Commerce had been in communication with the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company officials and had received assurances that the Humbert mill would resume operations as soon as trade conditions justified it.

Kurtz then spoke of the fact that Connellsville and South Connellsville

CLOUDBURST AT ETNA TODAY CAUSES DAMAGE OF $100,000.*Suburbs in the Vicinity of Pittsburgh Under Six Feet of Water—Two Hundred Men at Spang and Chalfant Mills in Perilous Position for Hours.

United Press Telegram.
PITTSBURG, Sept. 15.—More than $100,000 damage was caused in Spang and Chalfant mills, by a cloud burst with its center near Duquesne, broke about 1 o'clock this morning and the suburbs in the vicinity of the two towns were under six feet of water in many places up to houses.

At Spang, Chalfant & Company's mills in Etna, 200 men were caught by the rising waters and hung for hours to the rafters of the building, while scarcely of time passed it impossible to rescue them. The men were caught by the waist, their hands, clothes, shoes and stockings which were caught in the flood of the Allegheny river bore witness to the terrible damage. It is feared

Frank Clayton Almost Dies From Eating Cheap Candy That Poisoned His System.

Frank Clayton of Connell Avenue had a narrow escape from death last night from candy poisoning. When Dr. T. R. Francis was called Clayton was blind and in state of extreme exhaustion. He had lost his appetite and was unable to account for his condition. When Dr. Francis came enemas and stimulants were given Clayton and within a few hours he regained his sight and was able to account for his poisoning.

It appears that Clayton had eaten some cheap candy during the late afternoon. It had poisoned him and but for the prompt arrival of Dr. Francis he would have died. Today Clayton is on a fast road to recovery, but he is still weak and in an exhausted condition.

United Press Telegram.
NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Sept. 15.—The Bank of Montreal, the largest financial institution of this section of British Columbia, was robbed of $200,000 early today by three masked men who escaped after blowing open the safe and putting the loot in canvas bags.

A Chinese porter came to sweep out the bank at 5 A. M. and found the men at work on the safe. They bound gagged and tied him to a chair, blew the safe and then disappeared.

Thos. M. King, Veteran B. & O. Man, Dies at Summer Home in the East.

Thomas M. King, aged 67, former Vice President of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, and for years a resident of Pittsburgh, died yesterday at his home in Irvington-on-the-Hudson, New York. Death was due to paralysis. The body will be brought to Pittsburgh for burial.

Mr. King was born at Freeport, Pa. He received his first railroad experience as a clerk in the service of the Allegheny Valley railroad in 1859. He resigned his position in 1861 to enlist in the Civil War, was sent with his regiment to Kentucky at the request of Col. Morley, afterward chief engineer of the Allegheny Valley railroad, and was transferred from there to the railroad service in the east, where he remained until the close of the war. During this period he served with the Army of the Potomac and Shenandoah, under Col. Thomas A. Scott and Gen. Herman Haupt. D. G. McCullum and Col. J. H. Devaux, the respective heads of the military railroad system.

Mr. King returned to the Allegheny Valley railroad in 1867, and remained there as superintendent of the River division until 1881, when he became general superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, which office he held until 1886, when he was advanced to the second vice presidency, which position he occupied with an intermission of one year, until 1896.

It was largely due to Mr. King's influence that the Baltimore & Ohio secured an entrance into Philadelphia. He had charge of the construction of the Philadelphia division, with the Schuylkill River East Side railroad, of Philadelphia terminals; also the Nebraska. The advances were projection and construction of the lines used for the railways in western terminals at New York and the ex-trunk line territory.

Advance of Coal Rates Suspended.
Proposed advances in freight rates on soft coal filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission to become effective September 15, were suspended by the commission yesterday until January 12, 1912. The rates suspended were to be applied to shipments in the Richmond area.

Secretary Chase Home.
Secretary E. J. Chase of the Y. M. C. A., accompanied by Mrs. Chase and baby, are home from a month's vacation spent at Providence, R. I., the former home of Mr. Chase.

Are No New Developments

There are no new developments today in the third class city election decision arrived at by the County Commissioners and County Solicitor R. F. Hopwood yesterday. It is possible that some action may be taken to change the decision of the County Commissioners, but up to noon today there was no move in that direction. Rockwell Marlett, who was a Democratic candidate for Mayor, it is understood, has retained E. C. Higham to file into the now third class city legislature with the idea of getting the council's opinion.

In the meantime candidates in Connellsville have good naturally accepted the effect of the Pittsburg opinion. A mass meeting of candidates and others has been called to gather at the office of Attorney Higham this evening to discuss the situation. This originated with the Democratic candidates, and those who have been directing the campaign of Mr. Marlett for Mayor.

PRESIDENT TAFT UPHOLDS THE POLICY OF DR. WILEY.

Also Takes a Rap at the Agricultural Department and Directs That New York Chemist Dr. Wiley Employed Be Retained in the Service.

United Press Telegram.

BEDFORD, Pa., Sept. 15.—Dr. Charles Wiley, chemist and champion of the people against the food adulterators, will hold his son, Sonja others in the Department of Agriculture may not.

This was made known today in a dispatch by Frank Tracy, reporter for the "Daily News," who said that Dr. Wiley acted in accordance with numerous precedents, and that he has no right to consider the symmetry of his earnest efforts to maintain the pure food laws.

The President also recommends the retention of Dr. H. H. Rueb in the government service and rules adverse to the decision of the Agricultural Department, which he has already extended several months, before it comes into effect.

His decision which is in the form of a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Wilson. The President declares that

Dr. Wiley was justified in all that he did in the matter of the employment of Dr. H. H. Rueb as an expert chemist, and that he was not a party to the correspondence involved in the case. HIGH WATER BLOCKS STREET CAR TRAFFIC

Cars Cannot Pass Three Points on System North of Here.

TURNING CARS AT SCOTTDALE

Service Between That Point and Greensburg Is Badly Deranged.

Jacobs Creek Goes on a Rampage and Other Streams Rise Rapidly.

As a result of the driving rain which fell almost continuously from 11.30 last night until daylight, and showers that continued throughout the day, trolley traffic was seriously impaired between Scottdale and Greensburg. The through cars are being turned at Scottdale, there being no interruption of traffic south of that town. To the north, however, there are three points where the tracks are covered with water and it is impossible to get cars through. Between Scottdale and Greensburg a "Jerk-water" service is being maintained, cars operating over the stretches of track that are not inundated.

The tracks are covered with water at Scottdale, thanks to a rampage of Jacobs creek, and at Youngwood, on the West Penn side of the "loop." At Fosterville, the Pittsburg, McKeever, Port & Greensburg tracks are under water. Chief Engineer J. L. Pritchett, Superintendent of Transportation M. A. Coffey and E. R. Kooser of the transportation department, clothed in hip boots and oilskins, are maintaining the best service possible under the circumstances. At some of the points it is impossible to transfer passengers or goods to eat will be served in abundance.

The rain was exceptionally heavy throughout the coke region. It was preceded last night by thunder and lightning. The temperature rose several degrees and the cold snap came to a sudden end with the downpour.

As yet the Youghiogheny river has not shown the effects of the rains and is at a 2.60 stage this morning, a little more than an inch higher than last evening's record by the gauge. There was considerable rain in the mountains and it is expected that by nightfall the stream will be considerably higher.

The farmers are getting lots of satisfaction from the dampness as it insures good fall pastures. This is a big item this year as hay is selling for $24 a ton on the car. The better pasture secured means a saving in the hay investment at this time.

The sudden rise of streams north of here is attributed to the fact that the previous rains had the ground well soaked and the hard showers of last night brought almost instantaneous results as far as the creeks were concerned.

In Connellsville there was the usual amount of sand and dirt along North Pittsburg street and other downtown town thoroughfares, washed from the unpaved streets and alleys.

Steel Vulcanizer Blows Up in Office Of Dr. Peterson and Causes Excitement.*A Start Made on Cheat Dam

The vulcanizer in the laboratory of Dr. C. D. Peterson on North Pittsburg street blew up about five minutes after 12 o'clock today and for a few minutes the entire office of the Pittsburgh Mountain Land Company, including the office of the president, was thrown into confusion.

The windows in front of the office were blown out and the office furniture scattered around. The vulcanizer was from Box No. 114 and Fire Chief J. W. Mitchell and his men were promptly on the scene. There was nothing for them to do, however, since no fire started from the explosion.

Locally for Dr. Peterson had just started his office of the office before the explosion. There was no one in the office or laboratory when the vulcanizer blew up. A pressure of 150 to 200 pounds is kept on the vulcanizer, which is about two feet in height and is made of steel. The force of the explosion broke it into many pieces.

W. C. Herrington Sues Attorney

Walter C. Herrington, former proprietor of the Griswold Hotel, Pittsburgh brought suit in the Allegheny county courts against Ralph P. Tannehill, a Pittsburgh attorney, in which he charges Tannehill with defrauding him of $500 and with being guilty of misconduct in his professional employment as an attorney.

Herrington recites that about March 1, 1911, he with Teddy Flynn and Frank Bowman, was arrested on a charge of keeping a gambling house and with being a common gambler and that he was held for the Grand Jury and indicted. He states that he paid Tannehill $150 to defend him, which was to be his full fee. On the advice of Tannehill he pleaded guilty.

Later Herrington charged that Tannehill sent 12, J. Edwards to him and told him that if he would pay Tannehill $500 there would be no jail sentence and that in nolo pross would be entered. Herrington also charges that Edwards came a second time for Tannehill and stated for $500, paid by the next Saturday, Tannehill would guarantee personally the plaintiff that the case against him would be not pressed or sentence suspended.

Herrington then alleges that, at the special instance and request of the defendant, he paid over the $500, the defendant personally guaranteeing that if he was not able to make his promise good he would return the money.

Herrington recites that he was fined $100 and given a jail sentence of 80 days. He charges that Tannehill has neglected and refused to pay back the money and he sued for the $500 and for interest from July, 1911.

Last Dividends of Standard Oil

For a Sunday School Parade

Special to The Courier.
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Stockholders of the old Standard Oil Company today received checks representing the last dividends that will be disbursed by the great corporation. Under the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States ordering the dissolution of the company the old organization must be broken up before the end of the year. Consequently the final dividend for the year will not be paid by the old company. In the dissolution of the parent concern the stockholders are to receive stock in the subsidiary companies equivalent to their holdings in the old corporation. It is not considered likely that the stockholders will suffer any loss of income with the change in organization.

Since the organization of the Standard Oil Company in 1862 down to the date dividend paid today the stockholders have received dividends amounting to the enormous sum of $762,000,000. For the past eight years the company has paid to the holders of its $10,000,000 of stock an average of $10,000,000 per annum. In 1900 and 1901 it paid $18,000,000, and in the year following $16,000,000. The dividends however, were much less than the total earnings. The original value of the property has been increased greatly by the reinvestment of a large share of the earnings for the extension of its business and the acquisition of securities.

Although the Standard Oil Company never issued an annual report, or made other returns regarding its business further than publication of its dividend, inventories never lacked confidence in its ability to pay dividends, and the high rate maintained made the company's stock sell at from four to six times its par value. The highest price ever reached was in 1901, when it was paying 16 per cent. per annum. The stock then sold up to $12 a share.

POLITICAL SLATES AND PARTY ORGANIS.

The Unontown Herald accuses us of being "blitterly opposed" to the candidacy of George Patterson for District Attorney because of the publication of a certain news item written by our regular court reporter at Unontown, who by mere coincidence is employed on the Unontown Standard.

Our court reporter has no instructions to attack anybody, but only to furnish us with an unbiased account of the court news. The inclination that the news columns of this paper are loaned to other purposes is not well founded. We have no knowledge of the merits of the particular case referred to. The statements of our representative were accepted in good faith and will so remain until they are proven to be false or misleading by some better authority than the Unontown Herald, whose bitter factional partisanship has not even the pretense of concealment.

We again assert with all the emphasis possible that The Courier has no State; that it is keeping hands off in this primary contest; that it will, when the county ticket is nominated, support it in all earnestness and sincerity; and finally, that it does not approve of party newspapers entering into primary election contests, but that if any political interest or any fractional newspaper shall openly, palpably and brutally set up a slate and bid the voters vote for it, we will always have a few fairly sized stones to fire at that slate.

"If this be treason, make the most of it."

If the Pennsylvania Legislature monkeys with the Constitution any more nobody will know what the law is but the Supreme Court and the chances are that won't tell.

The candidates for county offices are carrying on their strenuous correspondence with the voters, and some of them are giving picnics parties and other interesting entertainments, but the candidates for city offices in Connellsville have ceased to bother the people and have stopped to think it over.

The newspapers are pleasingly illustrating their strenuous political days with pictures of political ambitions. Fayette County will go down in history as having had some handsome candidates in 1911, even if they don't all run well.

Connellsville is preparing to fly high. We never expected Connellsville of having such ambitions.

Sentinels will be evangelized again.

Horatius's Struggle.
By Isaac of Yukon.

Tarquin was the last king of old Rome. He and his son, Sextus, got in trouble with the people and a swarm of insects came and compassed the city which excoriated the two out of the city where they gave them an untimely egg shower. They remained away until they were able to collect a large army of boot-leggers and then they appeared before Rome to settle old scores.

At a hastily called meeting of council action was taken to keep the enemy out of town until the honey, garlic, onions and all the various and interesting concoctions could be had from the enemy. It was resolved to destroy the bridge across the Tiber. The Tiber was less than three miles at this point.

"Great Jupiter, there comes the insect," said the chief burgess as he tottered down the court house steps. "We must get three men who can swear loud long to guard the far end of the bridge while we try the end nearest town of the wall."

"We do not have any such husky Horatius." "Here is Horatius and Reminius who will bring up the ammunition while I get my gatling gun or the Infernal, low bird Dutchmen from the county of Cork. I'll get some women and stores a lot of helmets, spears and rapiers to set for the next ten years."

"You're my circulation manager, so get busy," said the consul.

"Wonder, if he'll give us a court house," said Reminius.

"He'll make us riding deputies" said Justice.

"The consul is good pay, boys," said Horatius. "He'll start me up with banana stores if we pull through. Now here they come. See, we've got the bridge."

"Tiber! Tiber! Astur! Astur!" Astur, now then mud me plug him. See how it done? The gang is afraid of us."

Just then the conceited fathers of the banana store leaders voted for the three men to be the new tribunes.

"They go back before it fell into the Tiber. Horatius had received a whack in the thigh by Astur's bayonet and was unable to run fast enough.

"Now we have the arena," said old Lars Person, a Swede.

"Not on your life," said old boy Horatius. These were the last words that the court stenographer was able to get. As Horatius turned around, he saw his wife and four children on the window balcony of a city flat on Palatin hill, back of Roman Avenue. He was a phonetic reader. "To is to 'O' the Father Tiber! To where the Romans pray, a Roman's life, a Roman's arms, take them in charge this day!" He then jumped into the yellow Tiber and away across.

On the bank stood the editor of the Human Monitor. He gave him a three year's subscription; the Forum brewery sent him six weeks' home treatment; the Tarquin Rocks distillery sent him four jugs of liquid stimulants; the Huncow clothing works gave him four cases of July 1st; the Eternal City bakery gave him a month's publication of Remus bugs and the Appleton Way dairy lunch supplied him with a week's grub. "When a man's in politics and can deliver the goods, it pays," said Horatius.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

United Press Special.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A new showplace, unique and instructive, will within a few weeks be added to the attractions of Washington. It will be permanent exhibit of the natural resources and industrial products offered by the southern states to capitalists, home-seekers and laborers.

The enterprise will be under the patronage of the Southern Commercial Congress. The design is to bring to the attention of a large portion of the 200,000 visitors to Washington every year a graphic presentation of what the south is doing and the opportunities for further development.

The exhibit will be installed in a room on the ground floor of the Southern building, a new skyscraper, two blocks from the White House and near other government buildings that are invariably visited by tourists. The display will be arranged to interest the tourist as well as to satisfy the inquiries of all who seriously seek information.

Special decorations will be devoted to emphasizing the great points of leadership and progress of the South. These facts of leadership are:

Cost lines, navigable streams, water power, distribution of rain, soil, varieties of soil, growing hours for vegetation, wet lands, forests and minerals as related to rivers and the coast.

Sixteen great columns in the room will be set aside to emphasize the points of leadership. One column will be dedicated to each of the fifteen states for which the Southern Commercial Congress exercised its activity. These are the states:

Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia,

Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississ-issippi, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

Around these columns will be arranged the displays of the first four cities in each state that entered for participation. In addition, one department in the South may display its printed matter and an album of photographic views.

The installation of the exhibit and its general conduct will be attended to by Dr. Clarence J. Owen, Secretary-Treasurer of the Congress.

Managing Director Davis in an interview regarding the matter said:

"The Southern exhibit will not be an advertising dodge. It is an educational effort to the understanding of the Southern States and their wonderful present and possible development. The exhibit will have nothing for sale, but will endeavor to interest the tourist with exhibits of the various products of the South and display its printed matter and an album of photographic views."

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as indigestion, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Today a large percentage of the population, particularly city dwellers, are afflicted with nervous debility or a "run-down" condition as it is called.

The chief symptoms of this modern complaint are lack of vitality and energy, nervousness and stomach trouble, weak heart, poor circulation, constipation and insomnia.

Old fashioned remedies failing, a modern tonic was introduced in Europe to overcome this trouble. The medicine was an instantaneous success and a similar tonic is now meeting with tremendous success in this country. This tonic is called Tona Vita and it builds up rundown people in a few weeks time.

Are you a victim of this miserable, run down, half-sick, tire-all-the-time condition? Are you nervous and dependent? Do you lack energy and ambition? If so, you have nervous debility and the weakest possible thing you can do is to let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your health and strength as it has done for thousands of others. You will be astonished how quickly this great modern tonic will make you feel as though made over.

Lee's Rhubarb Laxative, the assistant remedy, is used in cases of chronic constipation. Rhubarb is the finest of all natural laxatives. Other drugs strain and weaken the intestines, rhubarb strengthens them. Lee's Rhubarb Laxative is an ideal medicine and should be given to children in preference to all others. The taste is pleasant.

A. Clarke has the agency for these two great medicines in Connellsville and will refund your money if you are not completely satisfied with them.
